Posters at IPOS 2026 Congress

27th Annual World Congress of the International Psycho-Oncology Society

Barcelona · 9–12 November 2026 | 327 accepted posters

Cultural, gender and socio-demographics issues in Psycho-oncology (18)

PO 002 Development of a support group for men with cancer in the Pacific island of Guam

PO 006 Sex Differences in the Clinical Expression of Distress During the Cancer Trajectory

PO 007 Psychiatric symptoms in gliomas: a systematic review

PO 008 Gender differences in the psychological impact on cancer patients

PO 009 Grit as a Prospective Predictor of Social Well-Being in Breast Cancer Patients: A Six-Month Longitudinal Study

PO 010 Enhancing Psychosocial Well-being through Malay Support group in Singapore

PO 011 Psychiatric Disorders After Ocular Removal Surgery: Implications for Psychosocial Oncology Care

PO 012 Beyond Pink. Gender Stereotypes and Social Representations in Breast Cancer Communication Campaigns

PO 013 Validation of the Comprehensive assessment of Acceptance and Commitment Therapy processes in Mexican Women with Breast Cancer

PO 014 Land-based approaches for cancer research with Indigenous communities in Canada

PO 015 Prevalence of suicidal ideation in patients with breast cancer: a systematic review and meta-analysis

PO 016 Cross-cultural differences in communication between cancer patients and healthcare professionals assessed with the EORTC QLQ-COMU26 Questionnaire

PO 017 War-Related Trauma and Cancer Incidence in Patients with PTSD

PO 018 Cancer specific, culture specific, and common posttraumatic growth and its catalysts:A qualitative study with cancer patients in Japan

PO 019 Improving Sexual Health and Intimacy Support in the Cancer Care Continuum

PO 020 Participation in Comprehensive Psychosocial Support Programme at Kālida Sant Pau Centre: A Descriptive Analysis

PO 021 Relationship Between Stigma Toward Seeking Mental Health Services and Coping Strategies Among Latina Breast Cancer Patients

PO 022 Levels of Anxiety, Economical Strain, and Social Support in Caregivers of Children with Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia in Kosovo.

Developmental stage issues (From pediatric to oncogeriatric samples) (17)

PO 023 Evaluating "RE:CONNECT": A Trauma-Informed, Arts-Based Psychosocial Intervention Model in Pediatric Oncology

PO 024 From the lived experiences of adolescents and young adults: co-creating and evaluating a short online education program for healthcare professionals

PO 025 Danish translation and cultural adaptation of the Adolescent and Young Adult Psycho-Oncology Screening Tool (AYA-POST)

PO 026 Integrating the Self: A Longitudinal Case Study of Bedside CCPT and Identity Synthesis in a Pediatric Leukemia Patient

PO 027 Longitudinal Changes in Problem List Domains Among Adolescents and Young Adults With Cancer Undergoing Anticancer Treatment: A Prospective Observational Study

PO 028 Hearing the child's voice in parental cancer: Understanding children's experiences to inform child-inclusive psycho-oncology care

PO 029 Children as co-designers: Developing child-led psychosocial support for families living with parental cancer

PO 030 Psycho-oncological intervention based on art therapy with a systemic-family approach for a mother-daughter dyad during cancer treatment

PO 031 Health-Related Quality of Life Concerns in Young Cancer Survivors: A Developmental Comparison of Childhood, Adolescence, and Emerging Adulthood

PO 032 Implementing age-specific psychosocial screening in adult oncology: effects on therapeutic alliance and distress among young adults

PO 033 Understanding unmet needs experienced by young adults with a central nervous system tumour from a proxy (parent/carer) perspective.

PO 034 Examining the feasibility of using an age-specific needs assessment tool in routine follow-up for young adult survivors of a central nervous system tumour

PO 035 Global meaning violation and psychological distress in Pediatric Oncology Caregivers: The Mediating role of guilt

PO 036 When the forgotten become the guides: legacy letters from older adults living with cancer

PO 037 Parental Hardiness and Child Adjustment During Pediatric Hematopoietic Stem Cell Transplantation

PO 038 Developing a comprehensive psychosocial protocol for adolescent and young adult oncology patients at the Pediatric Cancer Center Barcelona

PO 039 Psychosocial resources associated with family adaptation in pediatric oncology: a pilot study

Digital health (15)

PO 040 Telehealth interventions for anxiety and depression in patients with breast cancer: an umbrella review and meta-meta-analysis

PO 042 App-based self-monitoring and its association with understanding and acceptance of disease during cancer treatment

PO 043 Stepping into Self-Compassion: A Proof-of-Concept Virtual Reality Intervention for Cancer Patients

PO 044 Artificial Intelligence as a Source of Medical Information in Oncology: Pattern of Use and Psychological Correlates Among Cancer Patients

PO 045 The Inpatient Pal: A Patient-Informed Digital Resource Supporting Psychological Coping During Inpatient Oncology Care

PO 046 ALTHEA: Towards improved access to psychosocial and cognitive care for cancer patients and caregivers through digital innovation

PO 047 ReACT♀: the use of a serious game for stress management in breast cancer patients

PO 048 Implementing a web-based decision aid, Breast Cancer Choices, to support breast cancer patients eligible for genetic testing in mainstream healthcare settings

PO 049 Optimising an online intervention for people who experience fear of cancer recurrence following primary breast cancer A mixed-methods acceptability study

PO 050 Protocol for implementation of a digital health tool to facilitate risk assessment of emotional distress and unmet psychosocial needs in cancer patients' journey

PO 051 Virtual Reality in Hospitalized Hemato-Oncology Patients: Effectiveness and Factors Associated with Treatment Response

PO 052 Virtual reality self-counselling for compassion fatigue among cancer care nurses: feasibility and preliminary findings from an ongoing pilot randomised controlled trial

PO 053 Conquering fear online: a pilot randomised controlled trial assessing the efficacy and feasibility of an internet-based self-management intervention on subclinical fear of cancer recurrence

PO 054 Identifying Sociodemographic Predictors of Mental Health Outcomes in Cancer Patients and Caregivers: Evidence from a Systematic Review and Delphi Consensus Study

PO 055 Risk prediction tools to identify mental disorders and psychological distress in people with cancer: a systematic review

Equity, diversity and inclusion in cancer care and research (23)

PO 056 Experiences and strategies of individuals with concomitant intellectual disabilities and cancer: A systematic literature review

PO 057 A Systematic Review of Unmet Supportive Care Needs, Barriers, and Facilitators for People with Physical Disabilities and Cancer

PO 058 Psychosocial, ethical, and system-level challenges of CAR T-cell cancer therapy

PO 059 Cognitive-sensory attunement in serious illness communication

PO 060 From Selamat to Hope: An Emergent Empowerment Framework in a Malay-Muslim Community Cancer Support Program in Singapore

PO 061 Caring at a Distance: Rethinking the Role of Perceived Peer Support in Well-being and Unmet Supportive Care Needs Among Unpaid Cancer Caregivers Resinding in Regional, Rural and Remote Areas

PO 062 Overweight, obesity and cervical screening attendance in the UK: a population-based survey

PO 063 Finding serenity in cancer: a qualitative study of how community, culture, and environment shape coping for Malay-Muslim cancer patients in Singapore

PO 064 Identifying the supportive care needs of individuals with comorbid cancer and dementia and their caregivers: Perpectives of healthcare professionals

PO 065 Recruitment of oncological patients in a blended eHealth lifestyle intervention trial: insights from different health care settings

PO 066 Dual perspectives on Adolescent and Young Adult (AYA) Psychosocial Cancer Support Gap: Contrasting AYA and Professional Perspectives and Experiences of Cancer Care Across the Island of Ireland

PO 067 Building a National Free Psycho-Oncology Support Network in an Emerging Healthcare System: The Romanian Restart Model for Equitable Cancer Care

PO 068 Pilot Evaluation of an Educational Intervention to Enhance Spiritual Care Competence Among Oncology Healthcare Professionals: A Pre-Post Study

PO 069 Beyond inclusion: rethinking oncology care for sexual and gender minority patients

PO 070 Clinical and psychosocial determinants of treatment efficacy expectations in cancer patients: a cross-sectional study from the NEOTEAM group

PO 071 Subtype-Specific Symptom Burden and Psychosocial Profiles in Advanced Digestive Cancers: A Multicenter Patient-Reported Outcomes Study

PO 072 Regional and socioeconomic variation in mental health outcomes among people with cancer compared with non-cancer controls in England: a population-based cohort study

PO 073 Barriers and facilitators to cancer treatment in the UK and Republic of Ireland: a scoping review

PO 074 Detecting and Managing Imposter Participation in Digitally Mediated AYA Cancer Research: The DISCARD Framework

PO 075 Advancing sustainability and equity in supportive oncology care delivery

PO 076 Social work as a cultural bridge in collaborative supportive oncology care for Spanish-speaking patients

PO 077 Beyond the Trial Population: Real-World Racial and Ethnic Disparities in Immunotherapy Toxicity Among Patients With Lung Cancer

PO 078 Optimizing brief virtual mindfulness and forgiveness interventions to reduce lung cancer stigma and increase quit motivation in underserved patients

Healthy lifestyles related to cancer (Physical Exercise, prehabilitation, promoting healthy diet and nutrition in all cancer journey) (17)

PO 079 Integrative oncology health and wellness services for the Pacific island of Guam

PO 080 U-Shaped association between β-carotene intake and suicidal ideation in cancer survivors: evidence from a nationally representative sample

PO 081 Multidisciplinary Approach to the Care of Oncology Patients Undergoing Peritonectomy: An Experience Report

PO 082 Experienced barriers, needs and preferences of oncology patients and healthcare professionals for adapting an online lifestyle intervention: a qualitative study.

PO 083 Psychological Distress and Medication Adherence among Cancer Survivors in Japan

PO 084 Patterns of everyday appetite experiences and their relation to weight loss in patients with cancer-related appetite problems

PO 085 Self-care in partners of cancer patients: results from a qualitative interview study

PO 086 Exercise participation and quality of life in patients with primary and recurrent breast cancer

PO 087 Perceptions of physical exercise in cancer care among undergraduate health and sport sciences students

PO 088 Association of physical activity, sleep, and stress with quality of life and fatigue in cancer patients: a cross-sectional study

PO 092 The NEOPRO-SIT study: Prehabilitation of cancer patients undergoing neoadjuvant treatment - a study protocol

PO 093 A multimodal programme integrating nutrition, exercise, and psycho-oncology for cancer survivorship care

PO 094 Reflections and Actions from a Decade in Clinical Psycho-Oncology

PO 095 Digital meditation practices across different phases of the breast cancer journey: a systematic review

PO 096 Surgical prehabilitation in mental health as a standard of care for cancer patients: impact of an integrated psycho-oncological intervention within a prehabilitation multimodal program (a pre-post quasi-experimental study)

PO 097 Multidisciplinary Rehabilitation Improves Emotional Well-Being and Quality of Life in Breast Cancer Survivors: Preliminary Results from the Italian Progetto Nastro Rosa

PO 098 Art therapy classes in the onkological treatment

Implementation science and innovation (18)

PO 099 Cancer supportive care and professional navigation to address health inequities in rural communities in British Columbia: Implementation science and knowledge translation

PO 100 Psychosocial risk factors and ergonomic conditions in radiotherapy staff a pilot intervention in a public oncology center

PO 101 The role and competencies of psycho-oncologists in oncological genetic counseling implications for comprehensive hereditary cancer care

PO 102 Characterizing Psycho-Oncological Interventions in Routine Cancer Care: An Exploratory Retrospective Study

PO 103 Exploring the Meaning and Value of Life Through Legacy Leaving: An Interprofessional Collaborative Practice Model for a Bedridden Young Adult With Terminal Head and Neck Cancer

PO 104 Structured Spiritual Intervention: Investigating the Efficacy of a "Seven-Day Card for Holistic Mind-Body-Spirit Health" in Cancer Patients

PO 105 Psycho-social interventions during the rehabilitation of cancer patients – A mixed-methods study

PO 106 Psychological Distress at Initial Diagnosis of Hematologic Neoplasms: Results from a Routine Distress Screening Program

PO 107 A Trauma-Informed Psychosocial Care Pathway for Women Undergoing Mastectomy and Breast Reconstruction

PO 108 Comprehensive educational program for oncology patients and their families: An innovative interdisciplinary model for coping and self-care

PO 110 Detection of psychosocial distress in cancer patients: A survey of Mexican oncologists

PO 111 Feasibility of a question prompt list implementation program in routine oncology care at a designated cancer care hospital in Japan

PO 112 Implementing digital distress screening for families in a pediatric oncology hospital in Russia

PO 113 Embedding co-design from the outset: stakeholder-informed protocol development to support implementation of a digital mental health platform in cancer care

PO 115 Barriers and Facilitators to Implementing Culturally Adapted Fear of Recurrence Therapy (FORT-Mx) for Breast Cancer Survivors in Mexico

PO 117 From translation to implementation: cultural adaptation of meaning-centered psychotherapy in Hungary

PO 118 Developing a modular psychosocial support model across the gynecological cancer continuum

PO 119 Holistic primary prevention educational resource promoting mental health among cancer survivors in Puerto Rico

Intersectionality in Psycho oncology (Psychosocial issues in underserved or under discrimination populations) (10)

PO 120 Chinese People's Experience of Cancer in the UK: A reflexive thematic analysis

PO 122 Lived meanings of cancer among arab young adults in east jerusalem

PO 123 Facing cancer while caring for someone with dementia: a qualitative exploration of the experiences of informal carers.

PO 124 Parenting minor children while living with advanced cancer: support needs among under-resourced families

PO 126 Psychiatric disturbance before hematopoietic cell transplantation: prevalence and clinical characteristics in an adult Hispanic cohort, Puerto Rico, 2023–2025

PO 127 Sleep buffers the association between adverse childhood experiences and mental health in adults with high hereditary cancer risk

PO 128 Young adults with advanced cancer: a scoping review of psychosocial, existential and supportive care needs and interventions

PO 130 Beyond the clinical complexity — including elevated long-term melanoma risk, repeated surgical interventions and lifelong dermatological surveillance — LGCN carries a profound psychosocial burden.

PO 131 Mind Your BEAT: A community-based intervention to increase physical activity and reduce psychosocial distress in rural breast cancer survivors

PO 132 Feasibility of Cortisol vs HADS for Evaluating Psychosocial Outcomes Among Latina Breast Cancer Survivors: A Health Coach Pilot

Low and medium income countries specific issues in Psychosocial Care (14)

PO 133 Sustained Impact of a Pan-African Psycho-Oncology ECHO Program: A Multi-Cohort Analysis

PO 134 Baseline Findings From a Pilot Randomized Controlled Trial of a Culturally Adapted Resilience-Based Intervention Among Women Living With Breast Cancer in India

PO 136 Disclosure of Cancer Diagnosis and Its Association with Psychological Distress and Quality of Life: A Cross-Sectional Study from Georgia

PO 137 Financial Toxicity of Cancer Care: The Impact of Employment and Age in a Resource-Limited Setting

PO 138 Scoping review of models of adolescent and young adult (AYA) cancer care implemented globally

PO 139 Psychosocial and economic challenges across the breast cancer care trajectories in public hospitals in Ethiopia

PO 140 Perceived Barriers to the Use of Vaginal Dilators in Mexican Patients Undergoing Pelvic Radiotherapy

PO 141 Implementation and Consolidation of a Mental Health Committee within a Brazilian Blood Cancer Association in São Paulo, Brazil.

PO 142 Factors associated with intention and practice of colonoscopy in a high-risk Mexican population

PO 143 Feasibility of a Cognitive-Behavioral Intervention for Stress Management in Mexican Patients with Colorectal Cancer

PO 144 Expanding access to specialized psycho-oncology care: a volunteer-based brief psychotherapy service in Brazil

PO 145 Sustaining the psycho-oncology workforce in Armenia: burnout, professional quality of life and support needs among psycho-oncology professionals

PO 146 Integrating Support Groups into Routine Care for Head and Neck and Pediatric Cancer Patients: An Ongoing Clinical Practice Experience

PO 147 Validation of the Acceptance and Action Questionnaire–II (AAQ-II) in a Mexican Oncology Sample.

Palliative care (17)

PO 148 Enacting and Witnessing Suicide in Terminal Cancer: A Bourdieu-Inspired Thematic Analysis of Almodóvar's The Room Next Door

PO 149 Psychological Counseling Needs and Spiritual Well-being in Advanced Cancer Patients

PO 150 How working with mortality shapes professional identity, personality and therapeutic presence in clinical psychologists: a qualitative study among professionals working with cancer and dying patients

PO 151 "I want them to always remember me": dignity therapy to address fear of being forgotten in an adolescent with advanced cancer

PO 152 Family and patient narratives of cancer end-of-life nursing consultations: a qualitative interview study in gynecological oncology

PO 153 Implementing patient-reported outcomes as a dialogue tool in nurse-led palliative consultations for women with gynecological cancer: a clinical development project

PO 154 Surrogate Decision-Making and Ethical Dilemmas in Artificial Nutrition at the End of Life: A Case Report

PO 155 Understanding the prevalence and correlates of insomnia in people living with secondary breast cancer – a cross-sectional study.

PO 156 Information interventions for caregivers of people with advanced cancer requiring end-of-life care, a realist review

PO 158 The value and significance of spiritual care in palliative oncology: addressing spiritual distress through psychospiritual assessments and interventions with an ethics lens

PO 159 At the end of the rainbow: A decade of a legacy and meaning-making palliative programme for Malay-Muslim cancer patients and families in Singapore

PO 161 Perceived Posttraumatic Growth, Psychological Distress, and Health-Related Quality of Life in Patients with Advanced Cancer: A Multicenter Cross-Sectional Study

PO 162 Choosing how to live or losing the chance to choose: Treatment transitions among terminally ill cancer patients in Taiwan

PO 164 From Search to Presence: Existential Meaning in the Face of Emotional Distress and Fear of Dying in Advanced Disease

PO 166 Estimation of Prognosis and Psychological Adjustment among Adults with Advanced Cancer

PO 167 Oncology grief support program (PAD) at the Catalan Institute of Oncology (ICO L'Hospitalet): Proposal for integrated care for family members of cancer patients, attended by the psychosocial care team (EAPS ICO).

PO 168 Barriers and Facilitators of End-of-Life Preparedness Among Hispanic Metastatic Breast Cancer Patient-Caregiver Dyads: A Qualitative Study

Psycho-Oncology in Clinical Trials (20)

PO 169 Evaluating the Feasibility and Acceptability of Trauma-Focused Managing Cancer And Living Meaningfully (CALM-TF) in Newly Diagnosed and Recurrent Ovarian Cancer

PO 170 Psychological effects of trauma informed yin yoga on body grief and depressive symptoms and sleep quality in adult cancer patients

PO 171 Smartphone-based distress screening, information provision, and psychotherapy for reducing psychological distress among AYA cancer survivors: for a fully decentralized multicenter randomized controlled clinical trial

PO 172 Partial laryngectomy versus total laryngectomy in T3-T4 laryngeal cancer: a propensity score-matched analysis of perioperative health-related quality of life

PO 173 Psycho-Oncology in Practice: Patient Hopes and Experiences in an LSD-Microdosing Clinical Trial for People with Advanced Cancer

PO 174 Long-term psychological adjustment and coping years after a perioperative intervention in breast cancer patients

PO 175 Existential distress in advanced cancer: study protocol of a pragmatic randomized controlled trial of a short-term psychodynamic therapy (ORPHYS) compared to usual psycho-oncological treatment (TAU)

PO 176 Multidisciplinary preoperative psychoeducational group for patients undergoing radical prostatectomy in oncology care

PO 177 Preliminary study on the emotional state and coping styles of lung cancer patients participating in clinical trials

PO 178 Perioperative demoralization in women undergoing breast cancer surgery

PO 179 A qualitative study of patients' experiences of receiving information about genetic risk and responses to planned treatment in myeloma participating in the Risk-Adapted therapy Directed According to Response (RADAR) trial.

PO 180 Perioperative trajectories of anxiety, depression and quality of life in women undergoing primary breast cancer surgery

PO 181 Cognitive Reserve and Emotional Distress in Rare Brain Tumor Patients: Preliminary Findings from the SIMPLIF-AI L'Aquila Cohort

PO 182 Personalised relapse prevention planning supported by smart messaging following psychological therapy for cancer patients: a naturalistic quasi experimental cohort study

PO 183 Evaluating the effects of parental support interventions in advanced cancer: A weekly longitudinal assessment of parent–child communication.

PO 184 Cancer-related cognitive impairment: Neuropsychological function, neurogenesis biomarkers, and a nonpharmacological intervention

PO 185 Mental health at diagnosis a barrier to clinical trial enrollment for adolescents and young adults (AYAs) with cancer

PO 187 Psychosocial Correlates of Chronic Pain and Health Outcomes in Women with Breast Cancer

PO 189 Pre-treatment cognitive impairment in lung cancer: a prospective longitudinal study on psychological distress and cognitive reserve

PO 190 Feasibility and preliminary effects of the Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing Train Protocol© during chemotherapy for non-metastatic breast cancer: a randomized pilot study

Other issues in Psychosocial care in cancer (77)

PO 191 Brief Psychological Support for a Hospitalized Cancer Patient with Psychotic Symptoms

PO 192 Peer mentoring through a breast cancer support group in the Pacific island of Guam

PO 193 Learning to manage depression in advanced cancer patients: An intern's reflections

PO 194 Providing psycho-oncology care through hospital visits in the Pacific island of Guam

PO 195 Interdisciplinary care and collegial decision making in autologous stem cell transplantation a comprehensive care model in a hemato oncology unit in Costa Rica

PO 196 Emotionally focused couples therapy for parents of children with cancer: A qualitative study of therapist case conceptualizations

PO 197 Exploring needs and preferences for shared decision-making in muscle-invasive bladder cancer: a multi-perspective qualitative study

PO 201 Maladaptive coping is associated with reduced quality of life in patients with cancer: a cross-sectional psycho-oncological study

PO 202 Quality of Life, Symptoms, and Awareness in patients with brain tumors: Agreement between Patients Reported Outcomes (PRO), physician assessment, and caregiver evaluation: the PA.DO.CARE study

PO 203 Deconstructing the battle metaphor in cancer care: Women's perspectives on breast cancer experience

PO 204 Support needs among fathers facing relationship distress during and after their child's cancer: a qualitative interview study

PO 205 Mental Health, Emotional Closeness and Perceived Social Support Among Family Members of Oncology Patients

PO 206 Neither heroes, nor victims, nor warriors: the impact of language throughout the cancer journey.

PO 207 Guiding patients with cancer to an adaptation training course in Finland

PO 208 Challenges and needs among pediatric oncology providers caring for pediatric brain tumor patients and survivors: a qualitative study

PO 209 The experience of bereaved partners of patients with advanced cancer who parent minor children

PO 210 Association Between Weight Loss and Depressive and Anxiety Symptoms in Patients with Advanced Gastric Cancer

PO 211 From symptom reduction to transformation of lived experience: an embodied framework for psycho-oncology

PO 212 Enhancing Holistic Care Competence among Healthcare Professionals in Chronic Disease Care: The Impact of a Reflective Continuing Education Program.

PO 213 Brief mindfulness intervention in surgical prehabilitation for patients with cancer

PO 215 From prescription to treatment ownership : proposing a clinical framework to support adherence to oral targeted therapies in oncology – A narrative review

PO 216 Prevalence of clinically significant posttraumatic stress symptoms in adult patients with hematological malignancies: a systematic review and meta-analysis

PO 218 Patient-reported comfort and tolerance of stereotactic radiotherapy for brain metastases across conventional linear accelerator, CyberKnife, and ZAP-X platform

PO 219 The Battle Against Suffering: Understanding Oncology Nurses' Lived Experience Through Their Metaphores

PO 220 What do patients want to know? Cancer information needs in Poland vs. Lithuania

PO 221 Communication Skills Uptake Following a Geriatric Oncology Training for Multidisciplinary Clinicians

PO 222 Healing in the Community: Participants' Experiences Across Two Cancer Bereavement Support Programs

PO 223 Reducing uncertainty, reducing distress: financial transparency in an Australian bundled breast cancer care pilot.

PO 224 Factors associated with emotional distress and the effectiveness of supportive activities among outpatient chemotherapy patients

PO 225 The Experience of Chemotherapy-Induced Alopecia: A Qualitative Comparison Between Users and Non-Users of a Scalp Cooling System

PO 226 From systematic development to clinical application: an ecological momentary assessment to assess patients and caregivers personomics (ExpOnko study)

PO 227 Cancer-Related Traumatic Stress In Patients With Different Cancer Diagnoses: The Role Of Childhood Adversity And Resilience

PO 229 Disease-Related Stigma in Patients with Thoracic Cancers and their Family Caregivers

PO 230 Psychiatric Symptoms Following CAR-T Therapy: A Systematic Review

PO 231 Symptom Burden and Its Associations with Quality of Life, Emotional Distress, and Sleep in Patients with Advanced Gastric Cancer: A Cross-Sectional Study in China

PO 232 Current status, implementation barriers, and recommendations for psycho-oncology services in China: A qualitative study from psycho-oncologists' perspectives

PO 233 Clinical Characteristics of Hematopoietic Stem Cell Transplant Recipients Managed Under a Proactive Multidisciplinary Consultation-Liaison Psychiatry Model

PO 234 A systematic review of the factors associated with lung cancer stigma

PO 235 "You feel like you have a neon light over your head": A qualitative study examining the experiences and perspectives of family members regarding the stigma of those diagnosed with lung cancer

PO 236 Body Image Following Ostomy Surgery for Cancer: A Systematic Review

PO 237 Implementing priority cancer volunteer roles through joint research, community, and cancer center collaboration

PO 238 Psychometric properties and cut-off scores of the Chinese version of the Functional Assessment of Cancer Therapy-Cognitive Function Perceived Cognitive Impairment Subscale (FACT-CogPCI) in patients with breast cancer

PO 239 Hope, loneliness, and lived experiences among individuals affected by biliary tract cancers: A mixed-method study

PO 240 Integrating psycho-oncology into the global Rehabilitation Agenda: The World Rehabilitation Alliance

PO 241 Hope and Positive Attitude in the Association between Anxiety and Spiritual Well-Being among Patients with Advanced Cancer

PO 243 Biobehavioral Stress Phenotypes in Metastatic Breast Cancer: Implications for Precision Psycho-Oncology

PO 244 Physical activity, physical functioning, and cancer-related fatigue in advanced thoracic and gastrointestinal cancers: an exploratory cross-sectional mediation analysis

PO 245 Psychosocial wellbeing subgroups in adults with high hereditary cancer risk: a latent profile analysis

PO 246 Psychometric properties of the Measurement of Current Status Scale in Mexican patients with cancer

PO 247 Psychooncology in Argentina: history, advances, and challenges of an expanding discipline

PO 248 Understanding experiences and impact of triadic communication for young people with cancer, supporters and healthcare professionals. A qualitative enquiry.

PO 249 Psychometric properties of the EPIC Sexual Function Scale in Mexican men

PO 250 The relationship between body image and sexual health literacy in patients undergoing oncological treatment: preliminary results from a tertiary oncological healthcare center

PO 251 Before hospital admission: an interdisciplinary psychosocial consultation to anticipate supportive care needs in autologous hematopoietic stem cell transplantation

PO 252 Does social support mediate the relationship between adverse childhood events and depressive symptoms in those diagnosed with cancer?

PO 253 Impact of cancer patients' distress on their tobacco use and tobacco treatment acceptance in the context of routine cancer care: a retrospective review of 16,839 cases

PO 254 Psychosocial support for family members of patients with cancer at a specialized cancer hospital

PO 255 Psychometric properties of the Patient Health Questionnaire-9 and the Generalized Anxiety Disorder-7 in Mexican cancer patients

PO 256 Impact of personal and professional grief on oncology provider wellness and patient care

PO 257 Psychosocial Factors Associated with Suicidal Behavior Among Hospitalized Patients with Cancer

PO 258 A Grounded Theory on the Relational Aspects of 1:1 Peer Support for Cancer Patients – The Role of the Program Organization and Coordination

PO 259 Implementation of an integrated psycho-oncology service within a chemotherapy department

PO 260 Comparison of the psychological impact of the cancer experience between AYA-generation childhood cancer survivors and their siblings

PO 262 Protocol for medium-term group psychological intervention for cancer survivors, based on Acceptance and Commitment Therapy

PO 263 Video-Based Interventions Against Cancer-Related Fatigue: A Pilot Study for Cancer Patients

PO 264 The protective role of the vagus nerve and the moderating influence of psychological variables on disease course in cancer: a pilot study in patients with breast cancer and colorectal carcinoma

PO 266 Development of Evidence-Based Oncology Communication Guidelines Through a Systematic Review and Delphi Consensus

PO 267 Evaluations of messages promoting psychosocial support service use: Comparing between patients with cancer and healthcare professionals

PO 268 Evaluating the Role of Informal Caregivers in Metastatic Cancer Patients Treated With Oral Anticancer Therapy: A Prospective Observational Study

PO 269 Reimagining Psycho-Oncology Didactics for Psychiatry Residents

PO 270 Development of video materials for families undergoing treatment in pediatric oncology/hematology at different stages of treatment to improve psychosocial adaptation and enhance treatment compliance.

PO 271 Patient reported psychological burden at the start of melanoma treatment

PO 272 The impact, causes, and consequences of insomnia in Latina breast cancer patients from Puerto Rico and New York: A qualitative analysis

PO 273 Fertility preservation awareness and uptake before and after national reimbursement among men with hematologic malignancies: a multicentre study

PO 274 When Evidence Is Limited: Developing the Italian National Psycho-Oncology Best Practice Recommendations Through the National Guidelines System (SNLG)

PO 275 Exploring Engagement with Community-based Cancer Support Centres among Cancer Survivors in Ireland

PO 276 Spirituality in the therapeutic process in oncology and psycho-oncology. Selected aspects. Research review

Psycho-Oncology in Patient Navigation (11)

PO 278 Access to Psycho Oncology Care and Its Impact on Psychosocial Outcomes Among Cancer Survivors in Nigeria

PO 279 Interdisciplinary Patient Navigation Program: Humanizing Mexican Oncological Care

PO 280 Attachment insecurity in cancer patients in Korea: Validation of the Korean version of the Experiences in Close Relationships Scale (ECR-M16)

PO 281 The value of non-clinical patient navigation in early-stage breast cancer care: Findings from a mixed-methods evaluation of a bundled care pilot in the Australian private health system

PO 283 Psychosexual adjustment in young women with breast cancer: associations between body image, menopausal symptoms, couple adjustment, and sexual function

PO 284 Building psychological care capacity through deliberate practice-based training: long-term outcomes for cancer care staff

PO 287 Digital Caregiver Navigation Platform in Psycho-Oncology: Introduction of the Útitárs ("Companion on the Journey") Project in Hungary supporting caregivers across the whole cancer pathway

PO 288 Implementing a needs-based care navigation model through AYA screening

PO 289 Link between synchrony and clinical empathy: a systematic review.

PO 290 Health and Digital Literacy in Prostate Cancer: Review of Strategies, Tools and Resources

PO 292 Increasing Access to Psychosocial Support Services Through Oncology Patient Navigation

Survivorship (62)

PO 294 Development and feasibility of a stigma-informed nursing support model to facilitate coping with stigma among women with cervical precancer

PO 295 Barriers and facilitators to talking to children about their cancer diagnosis

PO 296 Developing a Culturally Adapted Metacognitive Intervention for Fear of Cancer Recurrence in Taiwanese Cancer Survivors: A Delphi Study and Expert Consensus

PO 298 Affect phobia therapy for mothers with breast cancer – a feasibility study of online-delivered group psychotherapy

PO 299 Internet delivered cognitive behavioral therapy and relaxation training for fear of cancer recurrence: preliminary results.

PO 300 Exploration of fear of cancer progression in women with advanced breast cancer: an interpretative phenomenological analysis

PO 301 Patient-reported outcomes at diagnosis as prognostic markers for long-term mortality in colorectal cancer survivors

PO 302 Recognising and reporting breast cancer recurrence in survivorship: Mapping behavioural determinants to optimise follow-up care

PO 303 Cancer survivors' career transitions and support needs in working life

PO 304 Work-related self-efficacy in cancer survivorship, three distinct longitudinal patterns

PO 305 Beyond surgical reconstruction, addressing sustained body image disturbance in breast cancer survivors

PO 306 Sensory Sensitivity in Glioma Patients: Prevalence and Associations with Self-Reported Quality of Life, Psychological, and Cognitive Outcomes

PO 307 From Emotional Distress to Fatigue: The Mediating Role of Helplessness and Self-Blame in Cancer Patients

PO 308 "Don't ask, don't tell": labour market intermediaries and the (re-)employment of cancer survivors in Romania

PO 309 Beyond cancer treatment: general practitioners' perspectives on survivorship care

PO 310 Understanding liminality in psycho-oncology: a scoping review

PO 312 Fear of Cancer Recurrence and Its Correlates in Young Chinese Thyroid Cancer Survivors: A Cross-Sectional Study

PO 313 Psychosocial Determinants of School Reintegration in Childhood Cancer Survivors: A Scoping Review Using a Socio Ecological Model

PO 314 Why fear of recurrence lowers marriage intention through the mediating pathway of social isolation in young adult childhood cancer survivors

PO 315 Negative body image as a predictor of social isolation in young adult survivors of childhood cancer

PO 316 Supporting return to work and work retention: Development of an intensified and needs-based counseling intervention for cancer survivors in outpatient psychosocial cancer counseling centers

PO 317 Exploring the impact of early or premature induced menopause on cognitive impairment and sleep in breast and gynaecological cancer: a systematic review

PO 318 RAS-PBERRy study design: examining patient experience, risk perception and resilience in radiotherapy-associated sarcomas

PO 319 From poor sleep to a loss of meaning: Sleep-related cognitions and demoralization in breast cancer patients

PO 320 Assessment of Sexual Dysfunction in Breast and Gynecological Cancer Survivors: Screening by Oncology and Sexual Health Specialists for Referral to Multidisciplinary Care

PO 321 STEP-Together: An Efficient On-Line Group Intervention for Insomnia in Cancer Survivors

PO 322 EnReach Retreat: A residential psychoeducational programme for cancer patients and caregivers at a tertiary cancer centre in Singapore

PO 323 Anxiety, depression and fear of recurrence in Mexican women with breast cancer

PO 324 Long-term sickness absence, work ability, and rehabilitation after colorectal cancer: a nationwide longitudinal case-control study

PO 325 Psychological interventions for women experiencing cancer treatment-induced menopause: a scoping review

PO 326 Health Related Quality of Life after diagnosis with prostate cancer: the impact of treatment type for patients in the True NTH Global (UK) dataset

PO 328 Biopsychosocial profiles identify patients with head and neck cancer at risk for poor quality of life

PO 329 “There is care that goes into each step of the process, there's a purpose for all of it.” A qualitative investigation of the therapeutic tattoo process for cancer survivors: tattoo artists’ perspectives

PO 331 When fighting does not protect: fighting spirit and depressive symptoms in breast cancer patients

PO 332 Reducing fear of cancer recurrence in young cancer survivors.

PO 336 Associations between behavioural and emotional regulation and social skills in pediatric brain tumor survivors

PO 337 Experiences of long-term responders and their therapists with completing psychological treatment: A qualitative study

PO 338 Perceived Benefits Among Breast Cancer Survivors: The Role of Sociodemographic, Medical, and Psychological Variables

PO 339 Self-Efficacy, Autonomy, and Social Support as Determinants of Quality of Life: Associations and Interactions in Long-Term Prostate Cancer Survivors

PO 340 Proactive coping in adult cancer survivors: Association with emotional adjustment, perceived social support, and health-related quality of life

PO 341 The role of illness perceptions and coping towards understanding patient psychological distress in advanced cancer

PO 342 Gender differences in emotional adjustment, health related quality of life, and perceived social support among cancer survivors

PO 343 Health Related Quality of Life in Lung Cancer Survivors: Sociodemographic, Clinical, And Psychosocial Modulators

PO 344 Sexual intimacy, body image, and couple satisfaction among Latina breast cancer survivors and their partners

PO 345 Correlates of psychosocial distress in gynecological cancer patients treated at a community-based cancer care center

PO 346 CIFeR Advanced - Adapting a clinician led intervention to address fear of tumour progression across advanced cancers

PO 347 Measuring What Matters to Survivors: Development and Delphi Validation of the PATH Measure for Paediatric-to-Adult Cancer Care Transition

PO 348 “You can’t just let this little demon pill control you”: Qualitative interviews exploring the lived experiences and support needs of women on adjuvant CDK4/6 inhibitor treatment for early-stage breast cancer.

PO 349 Effective psychosocial interventions and core components aiming to reduce self-stigma among cancer survivors: a systematic review protocol

PO 350 Quality of life in long-term older early-stage breast cancer survivors from Spain

PO 352 Prevalence of distress within the cancer survival phase: sociodemographic, clinical, and psychosocial modulators and association with health-related-quality-of-life, unmet-care-needs, and subjective-well-being

PO 353 Psychosocial interventions during cancer survivorship: A rapid scoping review of PubMed-listed literature

PO 354 Unmet care needs in lung cancer survivors: prevalence, modulators and association with distress and quality of life

PO 355 Psychological distress during the diagnostic pathway for people with lung cancer who have never smoked.

PO 356 “Where Now?": A Psychosocial Support Program for Cancer Survivorship at Fundació Kālida

PO 357 Exploring post-traumatic stress in patients with brain tumors seeking supportive care interventions

PO 358 Dyadic coping across post-transplant survivorship following hematopoietic stem cell transplantation or CAR-T cell-therapy: A cross-sectional study

PO 359 Embodied Fear of Cancer Recurrence: Experiences of Spouses of Patients in Remission

PO 360 Understanding the Subjective–Objective Discrepancy in Working Memory Following Cancer: The Role of Cognitive Reserve, Mental Fatigue, and Fear of Cancer Recurrence.

PO 361 Patient-reported outcomes and experiences in surveillance for Barrett’s esophagus and endoscopically treated esophageal adenocarcinoma: a systematic review

PO 362 Supporting cancer survivors efforts to maintain employment during and subsequent to treatment: An examination of the application of vocational rehabilitation services

PO 373 Stress, Coping, and Resilience in Cancer Survivors with Pre-existing Severe Mental Illness

The role of Artificial Intelligence in Psycho-Oncology (8)

PO 364 Machine learning-based identification of health-need groups and development of an interpretable triage framework for breast cancer survivors: a proof-of-concept study

PO 366 Tracking cancer-related symptomatology using Mobile Health (mHealth) technology

PO 367 Effectiveness of Human–AI Collaborative Communication Skills Training for Cancer Disclosure Among Advanced Practice Nurses and Patients with Cancer

PO 368 Closing the Gap: Building Neuro-Inclusive Cancer Care

PO 369 Evaluating AI-human collaboration in oncology spiritual care using a blind test of dialogues guided by patient artwork

PO 370 A proof of concept model for meaning reconstruction using projective cards and ai assisted songwriting in a psycho oncology supportive group in taiwan

PO 371 Exploring the Role of Artificial Intelligence in Digital Peer Navigation: A Multi-Interest-holder Focus Group Study

PO 372 Generative artificial intelligence for psychosocial support after cancer: Perspectives of adult childhood cancer survivors and healthcare professionals